

I am The ROCK

Warren Davidson

Job: Instructor of music, conductor of the SRU Symphony Orchestra, teacher of violin and viola.

Joined University: Fall 2001.

Background: Professional violinist in the U.S. and Europe, soloist, chamber musician, orchestral concertmaster. Bachelor's degree in philosophy and psychology, master's degrees in music in violin performance, music theory and composition, a certificate of advanced studies in chamber music and a doctoral degree in violin performance.

Interests: Serbian and Macedonian folk music, food and wine, politics and economics, art and literature.

Last book read: 'The Compass Rose' by Ursula LeGuin.

Why I work at The Rock: I was given the opportunity to build a violin/viola studio, which has grown since 2001 from four students to 14. SRU has the most harmonious music faculty - pun intended - of any school I have taught at or attended. The mutual support here is remarkable. Also, SRU has motivated music students who are willing to work.
