

I am The ROCK

Kevin McCarthy

Job: Senior business intelligence analyst.

Joined SRU: 2009.

Background: I majored in economics and political science (with more than a few electives) at the University of Pittsburgh. I went on to earn a master of public policy and a master of business administration before working as an economic analyst, then as an admissions counselor and now as an analyst again.

Person(s) I'd like to have dinner with: First off, can we do cocktails instead? I would love to enjoy a glass of wine with Paul Samuelson, the man who is credited with mathematizing modern economics. I'd also love to chat with George R. R. Martin because I cannot wait to find out what happens in his next book.

Why I work at The Rock: Simply put, I am proud of a University that puts students before everything else and that continually strives to advance educational opportunities that enable our students to be productive, engaged members of society.
