

I am
The ROCK

Marjorie Riddell

Job: Payroll manager for Slippery Rock University

Background: I came to SRU in 1986. The University's Payroll Office keeps me busy and inspired. Human capital management technology has grown from a vintage centralized personnel-payroll terminal to a decentralized sophisticated HR-PAYROLL enterprise resource program. Quickly adapting to new environments has been a great asset in my personal and professional life. After earning my bachelor's degree 10 years ago, my current personal goal is to finish my M.B.A. around the same time my daughter finishes her doctorate.

Interests: My leisure time is spent biking, kayaking and hiking with my husband, Mark. I enjoy reading, having fun making wine from California grapes and traveling especially to visit my daughter, Rachael in Colorado. I am an active member of American Association for University Women, College and University Professional Association for Human Resources, Golden Key National Honor Society and numerous university and PASSHE initiatives.

Person(s) I would like to have dinner with: Katherine Hepburn, Ellen DeGeneres and Jacques Cousteau

Why I work at The Rock: As a tolerant human being, I appreciate working in an atmosphere that embraces the diverse backgrounds and cultures of our students, staff and faculty. It is rewarding and a constant inspiration to work closely with students, their ideas, excitement and curiosity.
