

SRU Graduate Assistantship FAQ's for Handshake GA's and Prospective GA's

1.) I am a current SRU student looking for Graduate Assistantship opportunities, how do I see what is available?

- Current SRU students or recent SRU alum can log into their SRU Handshake Account by going to <https://sru.joinhandshake.com> and logging in with their SRU credentials.
 - Once inside the app watch this video for detailed information on how to search and view available assistantships <https://youtu.be/0HreqWpetKk>
 - If you are an admitted graduate student and have received your SRU email address, use your SRU credentials and follow these video instructions to create your Handshake account. Then follow this video to search for available GA positions.

2.) I am a prospective graduate student; how do I view available graduate assistantships before committing to SRU?

- Prospective graduate students can follow this video and then contact Payroll and Student Employment at studentemployment@sru.edu to receive access to view available positions in Handshake.
- After access is granted, follow this video to view available graduate assistantships.

3.) I have a question about one of the graduate assistantships I applied to, what should I do?

- If you have questions related specifically to the position you applied for, contact the person listed in the job description.
- If no one is listed as a contact on the position, email studentemployment@sru.edu

4.) How often should I check Handshake for available assistantship opportunities?

- Most departments post their assistantships 1 semester or academic year prior to when they need a position filled, we recommend checking Handshake biweekly to see if any new assistantships have been opened.

5.) I have a general question about graduate assistantships at SRU, who should I contact?

- General questions regarding SRU graduate assistantships need to be directed to graduate.assistantships@sru.edu