ABOUT THE CERTIFICATE

The certificate is designed to prepare students and professionals in various disciplines for leadership roles in the healthcare information technology workplace. Tasks include managing electronic documentation to improve quality, managing projects, and proposing technology needs for healthcare organizations. The widespread use of electronic health records (EHRs) has created a demand for managers with knowledge of health information technology (IT) and management. Medical and health services managers will be needed to analyze, design, oversee, and integrate these records across areas of the healthcare industry.
